Back cover

1977/2019: forty-two years to produce nine (plus two) popular and precious movies dedicated to Fantastic's most excellent family: the Skywalkers. Under the sign of the Force – universal living energy - the fate of this space family is decided in the midst of the deadly fight between Jedi Knights and Dark Lords of the Sith castes. First, as the terrible Clone Wars rage in the Galactic Republic; then, during the civil war between Empire and Rebel Alliance; finally, throughout the relentless struggle between First Order and Resistance. Three cinematic trilogies created by Californian filmmaker George Lucas and blessed by extraordinary artistic, cultural and economic success. Anakin Skywalker and Obi-Wan Kenobi against Emperor Palpatine, Luke Skywalker and Han Solo against Darth Vader, Rey and Leia Organa Skywalker against Kylo Ren - Love and hate, esteem and contempt, friendships and feuds; parents and children, companions and adversaries, teachers and pupils. Angels and devils who dictate the times and ways of the Star Wars, that stellar warfare accompanying more and more global generations. American director J.J. Abrams, with his ninth and final Episode, closes the "Skywalkereid" movie-epic, definitively giving it to the Ageless Myth, shared by entire humanity... This book by Filippo Rossi reveals the Third Star Wars Trilogy gigantic monument and puts the word "end" to those long, beloved, unforgettable Star Wars.

The Author

Filippo Rossi, known as "Jedifil", was born in 1971 in the North-eastern Italian city of Rovigo and lives in Trieste. He deals with digital telecommunications, comics, illustration, graphics and writing.
